

America’s Media Makers
Production Grants (CFDA
No. 45.164)

Purpose: To support projects in the humanities that explore stories, ideas, and beliefs that deepen our understanding of our lives and our world. There are two types of grants—development grants and production grants.

Development grants enable media producers to collaborate with scholars to develop humanities content and format and to prepare programs for production. It should culminate in the refinement of a project’s humanities ideas, a script, or a design document for (or a prototype of) digital media components or projects, or a prototype for a digital media project with a detailed plan for outreach and public engagement in collaboration with partner organizations. Production grants support the preparation of a program for distribution.
