14 Sec. 805.1. Mine Subsidence Coverage.

15 (a) Beginning January 1, 1994, every policy issued or 16 renewed insuring a residence on a direct basis shall include, 17 at a separately stated premium, residential coverage unless 18 waived in writing by the insured. Beginning January 1, 1994,
19 every policy issued or renewed insuring a commercial building
20 on a direct basis shall include at a separately stated 21 premium, commercial coverage unless waived in writing by the 22 insured. Beginning January 1, 1994, every policy issued or 23 renewed insuring a living unit on a direct basis shall 24 include, at a separately stated premium, living unit coverage
25 unless waived in writing by the insured.

1 (b) If the insured has previously waived mine subsidence
2 coverage in writing, the insurer shall provide written notice
3 of the availability of ~~or agent need not offer~~ mine subsidence
4 coverage in conjunction with any renewal or supplementary 5 policy in connection with a policy previously issued to such 6 insured by the same insurer, but need not obtain an additional 7 written waiver of mine subsidence coverage ~~unless the insured~~
8 ~~subsequently makes a written request for mine subsidence~~
9 ~~coverage.~~

10 (c) The premium charged for residential, commercial or 11 living unit coverage shall be the premium level set by the 12 Fund. The loss covered shall be the loss in excess of any 13 applicable ~~the~~ deductible or retention in ~~established by the~~ 14 ~~Fund and contained in a mine subsidence endorsement to the~~ 15 policy, subject to the limit of insurance for mine subsidence
16 damage stated in the policy; however, for all policies issued
17 or renewed on or after January 1, 2027, there shall be no
18 deductible or retention applicable to mine subsidence damage.
19 For all policies issued or renewed on or after the effective
20 date of this amendatory Act of the 104th General Assembly 21 ~~January 1, 2008~~, the maximum amount of reinsured loss per 22 residence, per commercial building, and per living unit shall 23 be the amounts established by the Fund and approved by the

26 Fund shall not be less than $200,000 per residence, $200,000

1 per commercial building, or $15,000 per living unit. The Fund
2 may, from time to time, adjust the amount of reinsurance
3 available as long as the minimum set by this Section is met.

4 (d) The residential and living unit coverage provided 5 pursuant to this Article may also cover, as part of the cost of 6 repairs of covered mine subsidence damage to a residence or 7 living unit, the costs of debris removal, moving and storage 8 of contents, and repair or replacement of landscaping, but 9 only if made necessary by the repairs of covered mine 10 subsidence damage to a residence or living unit and only when 11 and to the extent such costs are actually incurred.

12 (e) ~~(d)~~ The residential and living unit coverage provided
13 pursuant to this Article may also cover the additional living 14 expenses reasonably and necessarily incurred by the owner of a 15 residence who has been temporarily displaced as the direct 16 result of damage to the residence or living unit caused by mine 17 subsidence if the underlying policy also covers this type of 18 loss, except provided however, that the additional living 19 expenses ~~loss~~ covered under living unit coverage shall be 20 limited to those additional living expenses incurred by an 21 owner who has been temporarily displaced as the direct result 22 of damage ~~losses~~ to improvements and betterments caused by 23 mine subsidence ~~, and reimbursement of additional living~~ 24 expenses and special assessments made against the insured on 25 account of mine subsidence loss and shall be paid within, and 26 not in addition to, the applicable limit for residential or

1 living unit coverage.

2 (f) ~~(e)~~ The total amount of the loss reimbursable to an 3 insurer shall be limited to the amount of insurance reinsured
4 by the Fund in force at the time when the damage first becomes 5 reasonably observable. All damage caused by a single mine 6 subsidence event or several subsidence events which are 7 continuous shall constitute one occurrence. As set forth in 8 subsections (a) and (c) of this Section, a policy issued or 9 renewed must provide coverage, unless waived in writing by the 10 insured, and the insurer must continue to charge the premium
11 level set for that coverage by the Fund. If mine subsidence
12 coverage is in force when the mine subsidence damage first 13 becomes reasonably observable, and the mine subsidence 14 occurrence is still ongoing, then the insurer shall notify the 15 insured making the mine subsidence claim that continuation of 16 that coverage thereafter may not be necessary and is optional,
17 but that continued coverage on the damaged residence, living
18 unit, or commercial building shall terminate only upon written 19 waiver by the insured. The notification shall be made within 20 60 days after the insurer receives written confirmation from 21 the Fund that the cause of loss is active mine subsidence. The 22 notification shall be in the form of a separate mailing to the 23 insured from the insurer through ~~via~~ the United States Postal 24 Service or other commercial mail delivery service and shall 25 include notification to the insured that mine subsidence
26 premiums paid for coverage on a damaged residence, living

1 unit, or commercial building subsequent to the established
2 date of loss shall be refunded to the insured within 60 days
3 after the insured provides a signed waiver of mine subsidence 4 coverage to the insurer. The notification shall be accompanied 5 by a waiver of coverage form for the insured to sign and return
6 to the insurer.

7 (g) ~~(f)~~ No insurer shall be required to offer mine 8 subsidence coverage in excess of the reinsured limits as 9 established from time to time by the Fund and approved by the 10 Director.

14 Commercial Sub-funds.

15 (a) Effective January 1, 1994, the Fund shall establish 2
16 separate sub-funds, a Residential Fund to provide reinsurance
17 for mine subsidence losses arising from residential and living 18 unit coverage and a Commercial Fund to provide reinsurance for 19 mine subsidence losses arising from commercial coverage. The 20 assets and liabilities of the Fund shall be allocated to the 2 21 ~~two~~ sub-funds in such manner as determined by the Board of 22 Directors, with the approval of the Director. The 2 ~~two~~ 23 sub-funds shall continue to be governed ~~managed~~ by the Board
24 of Directors. Beginning January 1, 1994, all premiums received
25 by the Fund for residential coverage or living unit coverage

1 shall be credited to the Residential Fund, all losses and 2 expenses for residential coverage or living unit coverage
3 shall be charged to the Residential Fund. All premiums
4 received by the Fund for commercial coverage shall be credited 5 to the Commercial Fund, and all losses and expenses for 6 commercial coverage shall be charged to the Commercial Fund.
7 The Fund's overhead expenses shall be allocated between the 8 Residential Fund and the Commercial Fund on the basis of 9 annual written premium credited to each sub-fund. The assets 10 and liabilities of the Residential and Commercial Funds shall 11 be accounted for separately. The assets of the Residential 12 Fund shall not be used to reimburse insurers for losses for 13 Commercial Coverage and the assets of the Commercial Fund 14 shall not be used to reimburse insurers for losses for 15 residential coverage or living unit coverage.

16 (b) No insurer shall be required to pay any claim for any 17 loss reinsured under this Article except to the extent that 18 the amount available in the Residential Fund or the Commercial 19 Fund, as the case may be, is sufficient to reimburse the 20 insurer for such payment.

16 Subsidence Coverage. An insurer may refuse to provide mine
17 subsidence coverage on a residence, living unit, or commercial 18 building evidencing unrepaired mine subsidence damage until 19 such damage has been repaired.

20 (Source: P.A. 88-379.)

17 Fund shall agree to reimburse the insurer for all amounts
18 reasonably and properly paid to policyholders from claims 19 resulting from mine subsidence and for expenses specified in 20 the reinsurance agreement. ~~In addition, the reinsurance~~
21 ~~agreement may contain, and may authorize the Fund to establish~~ 22 ~~and promulgate deductibles.~~ The reinsurance agreement may also 23 contain reasonable provisions, rules, and procedures related 24 to underwriting standards; language that insurers must include 25 or not include in mine subsidence coverage forms used by 26 insurers; remitting of premiums to the Fund; rules and
