HOUSE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered and placed in the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 963

Offered by Representative Chesney:

WHEREAS, The United States of America, for more than two hundred and forty years, has moved in the direction of being a society of laws and not of individual men nor women; and

WHEREAS, In order to create a society of laws, it is necessary, a requirement of every ordered nation around the world, that the society place one of its toughest burdens, the day-to-day enforcement of law and order, upon a professional group of service officers who are trained to fulfill this role; and

WHEREAS, The American people have, up until now, been distinguished among all the people of the world in our unique understanding of, and respect for, the burdens faced by law enforcement first responders, the men and women we call "the police"; and

WHEREAS, In the extraordinary year of 2020, which has now come to an end, all U.S. first responders have faced unprecedented challenges as part of their day-to-day work; because of the nature of police work and the people with whom police officers have to deal, this is and must be, as there is no alternative, a special burden, a special challenge, for first responders in the field of law enforcement; and

WHEREAS, Perhaps because of the conditions of this extraordinary and tragic year, 2020, many Americans, many well-meaning Americans, many good Americans, have become confused; all of us are bearing our own weights, and so in a time when we should be showing our uniformed men and women of law enforcement more understanding than ever, some are showing them less; and

WHEREAS, Crimes committed by police against our citizens cannot nor will not be tolerated; these individuals must be held accountable and prosecuted for their acts; and

WHEREAS, The great vast majority of men and women who wear the badge are committed to their mission of protecting law-abiding citizens and enforcing the laws of the State of Illinois, and they should not be vilified with legislation that diminishes their ability to serve, nor legislation which is punitive to those who serve honorably; and

WHEREAS, At a time when the City of Chicago sadly tallied 774 murders in 2020, a 50% increase from 2019, the General Assembly should be working to reduce crime, not moving flawed legislation through a "lame duck session"; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that the sponsors of this resolution are committed to effective and thoughtful changes to the criminal justice system and policing in a bipartisan transparent manner with all stakeholders represented, and this approach on issues of this importance will serve the State of Illinois and its citizens well; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the sponsors of this resolution affirm our support for the men and women of Illinois who wear the badge.

HOUSE RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered and placed in the Committee on Rules.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 970

Offered by Representative Mazzochi:

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE ONE HUNDRED FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that the Rules of the House of Representatives of the One Hundred First General Assembly are amended by changing Rule 1 follows:

(House Rule 1)

1. Election of the Parliamentarian and Speaker.

(a) At the first meeting of the House of each General Assembly, the Secretary of State shall convene the House at 12:00 noon, designate a Temporary Clerk of the House, and preside during the nomination and election of the Parliamentarian and Speaker. As the first item of business each day before the election of the Parliamentarian and Speaker, the Secretary of State shall order the Temporary Clerk to call the roll of the members to establish the presence of a quorum as required by the Constitution. If a majority of those elected are not present, the House shall stand adjourned until the next calendar day, excepting weekends, at the hour prescribed in Rule 29. If a quorum of members elected is present, the Secretary of State shall then call for nominations of members for the position of Parliamentarian and the Office of Speaker. Nominations and the election for Parliamentarian shall occur before the election of the Speaker. The House shall not proceed to the election of a Speaker until a Parliamentarian has been elected. All nominations require a second. When the nominations are completed, the Secretary of State shall direct the Temporary Clerk to call the roll of the members to elect the Parliamentarian and Speaker.

(a-5) The election of the Parliamentarian requires the affirmative vote of a majority of those elected, with at least 10 votes in favor coming from members of the majority caucus and at least 10 votes in favor coming from the minority caucus. Debate is not in order following nominations and preceding or during the vote. If the Parliamentarian is selected under this subsection, the Parliamentarian may be retained continuously until a Speaker is elected pursuant to this Rule. The Parliamentarian shall serve as an advisor for the Secretary of State and the members of the House. The provisions in the subsection may not be suspended.

(b) The election of the Speaker requires the affirmative vote of a majority of those elected. Debate is not in order following nominations and preceding or during the vote.

(c) No legislative measure may be considered and no committees may be appointed or meet before the election of the Speaker.

(d) When a vacancy in the Office of Speaker occurs, the foregoing procedure shall be employed to elect a new Speaker; when the Secretary of State is of a political party other than that of the majority caucus, however, the Majority Leader shall preside during the nomination and election of the successor Speaker. No legislative measures, other than for the nomination and election of a successor Speaker, may be considered by the House during a vacancy in the Office of Speaker.
