SYNOPSIS AS INTRODUCED:

See Index

Creates the Inclusive American History Act. Establishes the Inclusive American History Commission to (i) address the deficiencies and inadequacies in both perspective and content in traditional history course material and instruction and (ii) develop multiperspective, inclusive, and comprehensive standards that a school may use as a guide in replacing or developing its curricula for history education. Sets forth the membership of the Commission. Contains provisions concerning meetings, duties, and reporting. Repeals these provisions on December 31, 2022. Amends the Courses of Study Article of the School Code. Beginning with the 2021-2022 school year, requires schools to suspend all instruction in history education, with exceptions. Not later than June 30, 2022, requires the State Superintendent of Education to provide to schools instructional guidelines and standards based on the recommendations of the Commission so that schools may develop alternative curricula to replace traditional course material and instruction to ensure that students obtain a multiperspective, inclusive, and comprehensive understanding about history. Provides that beginning with the 2022-2023 school year, schools shall resume instruction in history, which shall require the use of age-appropriate discussion, textbooks, and other course material that reframe the study of history by presenting to students an examination of history through the inclusion of diverse perspectives, contrary interpretations, and the viewpoints of various groups of people whose voices have traditionally been excluded from the conventional teaching of history. Effective immediately.

A BILL FOR

1 AN ACT concerning education.

2 Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois,
3 represented in the General Assembly:

4 Section 1. Short title. This Act may be cited as the 5 Inclusive American History Act.

6 Section 5. Statement of findings; Inclusive American
7 History Commission creation and purpose.

8 (a) In an effort to create a well-informed, tolerant, and 9 equitable society, students in grades kindergarten through 12
10 in this State should receive an unbiased, objective, and 11 thorough education in history. Traditional course material and 12 instruction have failed to provide to students a comprehensive 13 education in history because the historical narrative has 14 always been presented and interpreted from the perspective of 15 one rather than from the perspective of many. To the detriment
16 of our society, this limited narrative in history instruction 17 and course material rarely teaches our students about the 18 contributions made by or the marginalization of women, Black
19 people, indigenous people, Latinx people, and people of color,
20 faith-based minorities, ethnic minorities, immigrants, members
21 of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender community, 22 persons with disabilities, and many others. Traditional 23 teaching materials so often fail to provide for any study

1 about slavery, racism, and civil rights that teachers must 2 often purchase their own supplementary materials in order to 3 teach their students about these subjects. The objective in 4 the reframing of history education in this State is not to 5 exclude, prohibit, or deny the narrative, perspective, or 6 accomplishments of any cultural group or people, but rather to 7 recognize and include the narrative, perspective, and 8 accomplishments of all. The reframing of history education 9 must present to students a fair and accurate historical 10 narrative that acknowledges both the triumphs and the failures
11 of a society. Therefore, the teaching of history to students 12 in this State must be reformed and reframed in order to provide 13 our students with a multiperspective, inclusive, and 14 comprehensive understanding of history. Rather than requiring 15 each school to be responsible for the research, study, and 16 investigation necessary to develop alternative or revised 17 instructional standards for the teaching of history, 18 instructional guidelines and standards should be provided to 19 schools statewide so that each school may develop the 20 alternative curricula it needs to replace traditional course
21 material and instruction.

22 (b) The Inclusive American History Commission is created
23 to (i) address the deficiencies and inadequacies in both 24 perspective and content in traditional course material and 25 instruction and (ii) develop multiperspective, inclusive, and 26 comprehensive standards that a school may use as a guide in

1 replacing or developing its curricula for history education.
