Thank you, Mr. President. Behind me on the Democratic side in the gallery today is a group of exchange students. They come from throughout Europe and the Middle East. They've been living here in Illinois, mostly in the Chicago area, for the last ten months. Over the last couple days, they've been visiting Springfield. Have learned during their stay here about our form of government. Had the honor of having them on the Floor earlier today. They're led by a constituent of mine, Barb Kelly, from Oak Lawn. If you don't mind, I'll introduce them all quickly: Carol Muskin, Rijona Sopi, Kaltra Demiri, Kareem Allam, Shireen Awesat, Leonie LaRaux, and Rubina Hafeez - all behind me in the gallery. Please join me in giving them a warm Springfield welcome.

Senator Tracy, on your bill.

SENATOR TRACY:

Thank you, Mr. President. What this bill does - it -- it's very similar to a bill I passed last year that had a sunset date - it allows an exemption for hiring for certain positions at the School for the Deaf and the School for the Visually Impaired. These teachers and some social work-type positions are very difficult to fill and -- they are already certified positions, and having a dual certification by the State Board and then also CMS makes it difficult to hire. And since we have been implementing these exemptions, the staffing has been filled and the students are being better served. So I would ask for an Aye vote.

SENATOR AQUINO:

This bill establishes the Future Language Teachers Program, which is similar to the program established -- introduced in the bill -- the amendment, rather, made that change. The amendment requires ISBE to establish the Future Language Teachers Program, beginning in 2019-2020 school year, to assist qualified participants in acquiring a Professional Educator License with an endorsement in English as a second language and bilingual education. Essentially, this bill is just trying to address this

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator McGuire, on your bill.

SENATOR MCGUIRE:

Thank you, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. Senate Bill 2927 amends the Higher Education Veterans Service Act. It provides that each public college or university that is required to have a Coordinator of Veterans and Military Personnel Student Services shall report to the Board of Higher Education information on its efforts in attracting, recruiting, and retaining veterans and military personnel at the institution. I know of no opposition and ask for a Yes vote.

Senator McGuire, on your bill.

SENATOR MCGUIRE:

Thank you, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. This bill amends the Postsecondary and Workforce Readiness Act. It does two things. With respect to the State Board of Education's competency-based, high school graduation requirements pilot program, it provides that a school district may participate in the program for some of {sic} (or) all of its schools. That is, grades K through 8 would be eligible, whereas, currently, only grades 9 through 12 are eligible. And secondly, it allows school districts to collaboratively apply to participate in the pilot program. I know of no objection and I ask for your approval.

Thank you, Mr. President. This is an Illinois Department of Labor bill. The legislation clarifies an existing discrepancy in the Amusement Ride and Attraction Safety Act. Right now, there's two conflicting provisions - one that requires funding go to General Revenue Fund; the other one's the Amusement Ride and Patron Safety Fund. The dollars in the past have always gone to the Patron Safety Fund. They want to be sure it continues that way, so we're deleting the conflict and confusing reference to General Revenue Fund. Thank you, Mr. President and Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate. Senate Bill 3139 requires the legislative branch and advises the executive and judicial branches to use "plain language" when drafting legislation, executive orders, and other public-facing documents when practical. Thank you. Senator Collins, I was looking at your bill. The bill restarts the task force and imposes the mandate. Typically, we form the task force because we're not really sure whether to impose the mandate and then we get the report back from the task force, which helps guide our decision whether or not to impose the mandate. I'm not sure I understand the point in restarting the task force if you're going to go ahead and say we should go forward with the plain language initiative. You're doing both, so can you help me clarify that for me?

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Collins.

SENATOR COLLINS:

This task force is not a new task force. It was initiated in 2009, but it did not fulfill the appointed appointments to the task force or complete its charge and that's why we're allowing it to go forward, just to be engaged again in the process of implementing the legislation -- policy.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Righter.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

Yes, but the task force was created to see if -- if we should go forward with plain language statutes. Correct? That's the reason the task force was created, to study whether or not the plain language idea is a good idea. That's correct, right?

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Collins.

SENATOR COLLINS:

What we're doing is we're trying to comply with the plain language that already is in the federal Plain Writing Act of 2010, which we have not been able to do when the task force was initiated in 2009.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

SENATOR RIGHTER:

I understand that there's a definitional change, Senator. I -- I guess my question is a little more basic than that and that is, in 2009, the State created the Plain Language Task Force. I assume the basis for that, the general thrust of the task force, was to help us decide whether or not we should adopt plain language statutes. The task force didn't do anything. You're restarting the task force, but at the same time, you're imposing the mandate to go forward with plain language statutes. My point is, why have the task force to study the question if you are deciding to move forward with the mandate?

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Collins.

SENATOR COLLINS:

The task of the task force, the Language Task Force, is not just in reference to updating to apply to the Plain Writing Act of 2010; it's also being implemented -- to implement, to monitor, and maintain this legislative initiative, including training requirement and other assistance, and release a report within one year about the implementation of the Act and the state of plain language efforts in Illinois government.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Righter.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

Thank you, Mr. President. So, Senator Collins, I want to now talk about the mandate itself. Oftentimes, what we find ourselves doing in this Chamber is amending law based on court decisions, and the courts, of course, write their decisions in what a lot of people would say is anything but plain language. So if we are to

100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY
REGULAR SESSION
SENATE TRANSCRIPT

incorporate into the statute the language of a court decision, how can we do that and comply with the plain language mandate?

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Collins.

SENATOR COLLINS:

Thank you, Senator Righter, for that question. That came up during the committee hearing and it was indicated that is why it was amended to say when practical. So there's no danger of us going in once a court order and changing any of the decisions or the holdings of a court.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Righter.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

Now, Senator Collins, can you -- thank you. Can you give me -- 'cause I do think we'll -- that we'll have a lot of that. Do -- can you give me a -- a -- an -- a simple example of a -- a bill that is written in what you would consider to be not plain language that would -- and how it would read after this mandate goes into place? And I apologize. I'm an attorney. Maybe I don't have any concept of plain language. But what -- give -- give me an example of what's -- what's out there now that -- that would be practicable {sic} that -- and what it would look like after the change.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Collins.

SENATOR COLLINS:

Senator Righter, I think you said it for yourself. You as -- you, as a lawyer, would not be able to see the need for understanding what plain language would mean as far as communicating what policy and legislative intent is. However, I cannot give you a hypothetical. I am not a lawyer, but I know many times when I read the legislation that we draft here, I need it explained to me by an attorney.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Righter.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

To the bill, if I might, Mr. President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

To the bill.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

Ladies and Gentlemen, I know that -- I'm sure that many of us, including my district, would love to go back home and say, "You know what? We've changed our way of doing business here and we're not going to use anymore legalese and we're not going to use any language that's not easily understandable." It's not that easy. It's simply not that easy. I don't think we're prepared to do this. I think part of Senator Collins' bill, the task force part, is exactly right, but we should make sure that the appointments are made to the task force and the task force can explain to us what the practical hurdles of this might be. I think, absent that, it's premature to just say, well, we're going to start changing the way we write bills, we write statutes. We're going to tell the -- we're going to ask the -- the executive branch and the judicial branch, who always listens very carefully to our directives, that they should change the way they write as well. Regrettably, I rise and ask a No vote on the bill. Thank you, Mr. President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Is there any further discussion? Senator Haine, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR HAINE:

To the bill. I'm...

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

To the bill.

SENATOR HAINE:

I think Senator Collins is on the right path. I think we need a discussion of what is proper and clear without giving up the essential basis of the law, which is frequently not clear to the person not trained in the law or in legislation. I agree with that. But I think you're on the right path, Senator, and I think it's -- it's deserving of a careful study. I do want to caution your task force, though, that I personally believe that we need more Latin in the -- in the bills. The -- the language of Latin was the basis of Roman law, which is the basis of our common law. Many phrases are - such as habeas corpus - are based upon great principles and should not be watered down. I just want to caution your task force. And I have here an opinion that my dear friend and distinguished colleague, Senator Pat McGuire, gave to me that came out of his county on a bill, which says the following: "based on the principle of expressio unius est exclusio alterius". This -- this means the Legislature intended all other exemptions from being applied for a partial year ownership for the homestead bill. Now, nothing could be more clear to me than the phrase "expressio unius exclusio alterius". Isn't that correct? So I would caution this task force to keep as much Latin, the universal language, in the law. Don't give it up. Don't give it up for fashion. Keep Latin, and we, the priests of the law, the lawyers, will bill for explaining to you what it means. Thank you.

SENATOR COLLINS:

I -- I appreciate those comments from my colleague, distinguished leader and attorney, former prosecutor, Senator Haine. To let you know that I did study Latin in high school and I love the language of Latin. I think Latin I understand better than some of the English terms used in policy and legislation drafting. And for -- I -- I appreciate your comments. And let me just...(inaudible)...Senator Righter, we did confer with Jim Dodge of the Legislative Research {sic} (Reference) Bureau and drafting, and everything was clear -- clearly understood and that's why he put in the amendment to make it practical. And to also add that maybe I will have your position when I get my law degree, since I am a law student, but I think this is well deserved at this point. Thank you.

Senator Righter, on your bill.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

Thank you -- thank you, Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Chamber. Senate Bill 3143 is an initiative of the Department of Central Management Services. It would impose upon them a requirement that they include in their reports for any lease where you've gone past three years and there's a purchase option, to do an analysis of the value of the purchase option. That way -- there have been some questions about purchase options on certain State buildings and this is the remedy to put it out there in front of everyone, including Members of the General Assembly, so everyone can see the value, potential value of the leases.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

It applies to leases where there is a purchase option and you've gone at least three years into the lease. The reason it's not shorter than that, Senator, is because I -- I've never heard of a purchase option on a building that's being leased that was shorter than three years.
